

THE REX LOBBY

LOCATION: POTTS POINT, SYDNEY
YEAR: 2012

The Rex is an apartment development in Sydney's Potts Point. Originally a hotel, the building was converted into apartments in 2002. Mathieson was commissioned to redesign the Macleay Street Lobby in 2012. The new design incorporates light washed, sandblasted limestone walls with an existing rich terracotta coloured terrazzo floor. A parchment coloured leather bench seat and a six metre long stone concierge desk with a bronze desk lamp furnish the lobby.
